

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What if I have already completed all of my hours over the summer?

If you have completed all of your service hours starting from last June, you will need to simply fill out the Student Service Log and turn it in by the date indicated by your religion teacher.

When will my service hours be due?

Your religion teacher will cover this in class – usually the beginning May.

How is service factored in to my religion grade? If your general service hours are completed and you were present for your class experience, or engaged in a comparable activity, your service requirement will be met.

Where can I find a Blanchet Catholic School service form?

These are located on the website under the section Student Life/Community Service/Student Service Log.

What types of service count toward my hours?

Just about anything where you are helping someone else without receiving any form of compensation. For service hour credit you need to seek sources outside of your home, being that you should do things such as help out around the house, watch your siblings, take out the trash etc...just because you are a good kid☺. If you are helping an organization that your parents are in charge of, that is different and acceptable for service hours.

Who should I turn my service hour log and paper in to?

Your religion teacher.

Where can I find organizations that need to be served?

There is an ongoing list of Community Service Opportunities posted on the website under the Community Service section. Periodically, there are upcoming service opportunities that are emailed out to the religion teacher and/or announced in the daily announcements. Please see Mrs. Danielle Wise with any questions.
